ENGINEERS REPORT OF FIRE DEPARTMENT

Hon. Board of Selectmen,
Town of Millis, Mass.

Gentlemen:

Herewith we wish to present report of conditions as we have found them for the past season. Millis equipment remains practically as good as ever. Rockville district has in service a very good Graham Bros. Combination Hose and Forest Wagon as new equipment, taking care of things very well.

The number of fires attended by both companies was rather more than usual, amounting to 63 calls, both alarm and still, of which we include a calendar list.

The old wooden floor at Millis House got in such bad condition that we had to replace it with a new cement floor and other small changes, all of which was done at a very low figure.

In view of the fact that Millis has very low water pressure from 35 to 50 lbs. and no way for Water Department to materially increase same without expenditure of a vast sum of money, we most urgently ask for a Triple Combination Pumping Engine. The same to be of about 500 gallons per institute a plan of its own for the purpose of providing for the permitted subject the same kind of protection as is provided by the plan of the institution of which the subject is a member.

The industrial sector has been the main driver of growth in the economy, with a strong emphasis on manufacturing and services. The government has implemented various policies to support industrial development, including tax incentives and infrastructure improvements.

The findings of the first two studies suggest a need to put numbers and percentages on the scale of the program, rather than with qualitative goals, such as "improved" or "better" than at all other participating agencies.

New Extensions.

The work on the new extensions on Irving and Adams and Barnell was put out to bid. The committee asked the two men in town C. L. Simpson and William H. Hinman to figure. Mr. Simpson did not put in his figures so that left Mr. Hinman as the only one to be considered. The Committee considered these figures very satisfactory and the work was given to him according to the figures as shown in the contract.

Mills, Mass.

April 1, 1906.

The Water Commission of said Town of Mills, Mass., accepted the bid of William H. Hinman for the performance of all the conditions as specified by them, to wit: laying new water mains on Adams and Barnell streets on Union and Irving streets, it is agreed between said Hinman and said Water Commissioners of said Town of Mills, Massachusetts as follows:

That said Hinman agrees to put in said mains at the cost of 80 cents per foot removal of ledge $1.00 per yard putting in hydrants $8.00 each, putting in valves $2.00 each. All work to be done in a good, workmanlike manner, satisfactory to said Water Commissioners: and said Commissioners agree to make partial payment while the work is in progress and the balance on acceptance of said work by the Water Commissioners.

Superintendent's Report

To the School Committee of Millis:

In accordance with the regular custom I hereby have the honor to submit my second annual report.

The efficiency of the schools depends upon the provisions that are made for effective instruction both the services of those capable through education and training and the conditions under which the work is carried on.

The period of time which this report includes marks a decided change in the administration of the schools. At the outset it was realized that there were many matters that needed attention and that certain procedure was necessary to the greatest possible advancement.

Many matters were given attention at once and it very much bettered the conditions under which the schools were being conducted. It gave a greater stimulus and interest.

Teachers.

In making arrangements for the teaching for this school year the matter was given careful consideration so as to have a capable teacher in each position. It was possible to retain the services of several of the teachers that had proved their special fitness for their positions. This helped to establish a degree of stability to the teaching force which is quite desirable. The remaining positions were filled with teachers of education and training for the respective lines of work.

This procedure has established a definite routine and has strengthened the teaching throughout the entire school.

High School.

The classification of high schools for purposes of certification to normal school and other higher institutions comes under the jurisdiction of the Agent of the State Department. Mr. Frank P. Moss, Superintendent of Secondary Education reported his last visit was that the schools were in better condition than last year that there was a marked improvement. The needs that were reported were for better equipment for science and the library which was provided for in the new fiscal year.

Attendance.

The importance of regular attendance is so great in its effect upon the work of the school and the advancement of the pupils that it demands some attention. The pupils who are regular in attendance make the regular advancement. Irregular attendance tends to result in elimination for the pupil has difficulty in keeping with the grade and later leaves school. The pupils that reach high school are of the group that have been in school when school has been in session.

The schools have worked to develop this incentive on the part of the pupils.

The importance of attendance seems to be recognized for the results show that there has been cooperation on the part of the parents which indicate in some degree approval of the conduct of the schools. The attendance has been better each month than for the corresponding month the year before.

Our records show that during the months of September, October, November and December 1925 the number of pupils who were neither absent or tardy was twice the number during the corresponding months of 1924.

The attendance for the first four months of this school year was 2.6 per cent better than for the same months of the previous year, which means that figuring it financially the Schools earned three hundred dollars more than for the same time the year before.

Health.

The problem of health is vitally connected with education. Health education is fundamental in the problem of human welfare. Health is mainly a matter of education since it is affected by habits which are acquired during the time that the pupil is in the lower grade.

Definite instruction in health is a part of the regular course. It is the purpose to develop proper health habits and a knowledge of conditions that are conducive to health. The four book course written by Dr. Andres and Dr. Evans has been adopted for use in grades three to six.

The object of the law requiring the employment of a school nurse is to reduce the number of exclusion from school for illness, to cooperate with parents in cases of sickness so that there is the least possible loss of time from school and to work toward improving the health of school children.

The general health condition of the pupils during the fall as well as the attendance indicate the advantage effectiveness of the health work.

Organization.

The transition from the eight grades to high school being such a decided change and the difficulties of adaptation to the first year of high school has resulted in a new plan of organization. It consists of the six-six plan, the principal feature being the seventh and final subject will be dealt with the high school organized as a department, the advantages of the departmental work with the instruction by teachers who have specialized in the different studies.

It permits of a more effective course better adapted to differences in capacities and interests of the pupils and results in the development of greater intellectual power, application and progress.

The transition from from the eight grade to high school has always required many adjustments. With such a plan the change is more gradual with no forced break in the course and a greater possibility of the pupil continuing in school.

This plan is being used in more and more communities and seems to be used wherever it is possible. It has received the approval of parents and pupils and the enthusiastic endorsement of teachers.

Conclusion.

The complete change in the administration of the schools and in the method of procedure that has resulted in the decided advance that has been made is directly attributable to the cooperation of the committee, the encouragement that they have given through developing an excellent spirit in the corps of teachers. The committee has worked for the improvement of the schools to be, for the welfare of the pupils.

It has been a pleasure to work in the interest of the schools and I wish to express my appreciation for the encouragement and support of the committee and to commend the teachers for their response to what has been suggested and their efforts in the performance of their work.

Respectfully submitted,

THEODORE W. KING.

Principal's Report

To the School Committee of Millis:

Junior High School.

The Junior High school is now accepted as a satisfactory solution of difficulties of the school system, and is being introduced more and more in the larger towns and cities in the state. In a town of this size a separate Junior High school is inadvisable, but the combined Junior Senior or Six-Year High school answers the same purpose.

According to this scheme the six lower grades would remain the same. The seventh, eighth and ninth grades would make up the Junior High school. The tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades would make up the Senior High school. Each teacher would specialize in some one or more subjects and teach all classes in that or those subjects.

The advantages of this system are several. During the adolescent period (from twelve to fifteen years) the child changes rapidly, both physically and intellectually, and educators agree that in the seventh and eighth grades he is ready for a more varied field of study and responsibility to satisfy his own development.

Now, however, the change from elementary methods and subject comes abruptly at the end of the eighth grade when the pupil enters high school. This great break is one fault of the older system. Many pupils who have made excellent records in the grades fail in their first year of high school because the change from the restraint of the grades to the greater freedom of the high school is too sudden.

The Junior High school studies with these subjects a gradual change to high school methods is made in the eighth and ninth grades and by the time the pupil has passed of more advanced subjects in grades eight and nine.

In passing from the sixth to the seventh grade (the first year of Junior High) the pupil meets two new conditions. The pupil would have the same subjects as in the elementary school some of these studies. But he would be introduced to a new time schedule, under which he would be assigned regular study periods and in which the forty minute period would be changed from the thirty minute period of the elementary school to the forty minute period of the high school.

In the eighth grade the pupil would meet two new conditions — departmentalization and pre-vocational studies. He would start Latin, common to all students, and French, science and geometry as well as an arithmetic. The pupil would be spent on elementary Latin thus leaving a considerable amount of advanced work in the subject. French would be started in the ninth grade instead of the tenth, thus leaving two periods for the subject instead of three as at present. General introductory science would be given in the eighth grade. The pupil would be promoted in any subject in which he passed.

Thus in the Junior High school the pupil finds earlier the broader fields for which he is ready and as the result of the change is so gradual that when he enters high school (the tenth grade) he has become accustomed to high school procedure, and can pass easily from one grade to the next — the wide gap now existing between the elementary grades and the high school has been bridged.

This introduction of pre-vocational work in the eighth grade has several practical advantages. The pupil has been acquainted with some high school subjects, and at the end of this year he should know whether he wishes to continue

Latin or the business course. Hence, he finds himself sooner and can thereby plan the rest of his course with greater unity. The extra time given to any subject by the introduction of the elementary courses helps the pupil to grasp that subject more firmly as he continues it. These courses also are of benefit to those children who early leave school to work. According to compulsory education laws they may leave at fourteen with no high school instruction. If, however, they have attended a Junior High school, they have some knowledge of high school customs and studies.

It is claimed, moreover, that the Junior High school helps to keep pupils from leaving school. In looking over our school records, I find that while from eighteen to thirty enter our first class of high school, the number to graduate runs between five and twelve. This year's graduating class is a good example of this fact. Eighteen pupils entered in 1922. Two of these are left, and three have come in from outside, making a class of five. This is too great a reduction, and everything that might improve the situation should be done. The Junior High school helps to keep pupils in school, first by presenting a more attractive program, and next by bridging the gap between the grades and high school, so that no one time presents itself to the minds of the half interested pupils as a logical time to leave. As there is no reason for leaving at the end of one year more than another, many stay on, and perhaps graduate, who, in our present system, would never enter high school at all—or, in the case of some, enter only to leave soon as the change from the grades proved too much for them.

An advantage of the Junior High school system is that teachers are chosen for the fact that they are adapted to a certain line of work—this specialization should make for greater efficiency, and the more efficiently a subject is taught ment, also to have them show their interest in the games, and generally to assist in looking after the boys. It was a relief to the coach and myself to feel that when our team went into a game, they were protected as far as possible.

One way in which this school may be improved, and the large boys induced to remain in school is by developing our athletic to a high standard. I feel that the appropriation made by the town last spring was a great help in the right direction, and it was appreciated by the boys and all others connected with the school.

Mention should be made of the splendid spirit this fall among the girls and boys in supporting the team. Pupils turned out well to games, both when the team played at home and in other towns, and encouraged the boys by enthusiastic cheering.

Last spring the Tri-County Prize-Speaking Contest was held at Shelburne. Our high school was represented for the first time by one girl and one boy. We received honorable mention. This year the contest is going to be held in Melrose and our high school will be represented.

The French-Français French Club is a new activity for the year. The purpose of the club is to instill in the pupils a greater interest in the French language, and to enable them to understand and to speak it more freely. The business meetings are conducted in French, songs with French words are learned, and games which bring in French words are played. The club is run entirely by pupils.

There are three musical clubs in school under the direction of Miss Spomer. The High School Glee Club consists of about thirty members chosen from the girls of all classes in the high school. Three part songs are sung. The Junior Glee Club was started this year and has about fifty members consisting of girls and boys from the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades who can read and sing music. This club sings three part - nrs and studies the lives of composers and musicians. The third is the Glee Club, the largest club this year. Anyone who can play a musical instrument may be a member. They play some of the pieces. The club meets once a week after school. These clubs are doing much for the cause of music in the school and are doing a help in social affairs.

The Honor Roll has done much to improve the scholarship of the pupils in the high school. The percentage of those who obtained a mark of 85 or better in each subject has been changed from 9 per cent in September to 21 per cent in December.

The high school is now busy with rehearsals for "The Love Pirates of Hawali," a light operatta in two acts, to be given about the middle of February. Miss Helen Spooner is director, assisted by the high school teachers. The pupils are to be commended for their enthusiasm and sense of responsibility in putting on this operatta. The good attendance at rehearsals is a great factor towards making it a success.

Seats and Desks.

Oftentimes we are put at a disadvantage in holding assemblies, school socials, meetings and in rehearsing our school plays, because we have a good sized room with all the regular stationary school desks. To help out in this respect I wish the stationary seats and desks now in the high school could be used to replace worn out in other rooms where better ones are badly needed. Then the high school seats and desks might be replaced by movable ones - this would make it possible to move them about as desired on special occasions.

Commercial Course

The Gregg system of shorthand has been introduced this year, as Gregg is the system used in the majority of schools in the state.

The Commercial Course could be greatly improved and the student's ability increased by the addition of an office training course and a third year of typewriting. The office training course should include filing and some actual work on modern office appliances. Some new equipment would be necessary if the above course were introduced into the Commercial Course.

Our schools have advanced this year in standing. The pupils show a better spirit this year than last, and an improved attitude toward their work and teachers.

I thank the Superintendent, the committee and the teachers for their co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

Clyde F. Brown,

Principal

Report of Music and Drawing Supervisor.

The children are all very happy and healthy. They are all growing up well. The girls are very pretty.

[illegible]

A Boys and Girls Ukulele Club has been formed in High School, although pupils playing any instrument are gladly welcomed.

Drawing is a universal language used by all nationalities, and is one of the most important subjects taught in the schools. It includes native study, designing, illustration, paper cutting, lettering, landscape drawing, printing, poster and construction work besides correlating with other subjects. It is a means of self expression in which the children enjoy with enthusiasm.

Again I wish to thank the school executives and teachers for their continued cooperation in carrying out my suggestions.

Respectfully yours,

HELEN J. SPOONER,

Supervisor.

Report of School Nurse.

Millis, Mass., Jan. 1, 1926.

To the School Committee:

All pupils had eyes and ears examined as required by the State and notices were sent to parents where defects were found.

The Health Crusade work is gaining in popularity and results. 207 children are now in the crusade. 75 have received the Knight Pin for second honor.

Two cases of Impetigo were found among the children this Fall, which were cleared up very quickly. No other contagious cases were reported during the Fall term of the year as a whole.

Christmas Health Seals were sold to the School Children and $15.27 resulted from this sale.

The Norfolk County Hospital has a Boy's Summer Health Camp at Frinton and one of our boys went to that Camp for eight weeks. The expense was met by the sale of Christmas Seals. We hope to send one or more boys next summer.

Grades I and II were weighed four times this year. Grades III to VIII were weighed every two weeks for the Health Crusade work. All those under weight were weighed once a month.

The children certainly are earnest little workers and there is great competition over which grade will receive the Health Banner each month. The Banner was held in September by the 4th grade, October by the 5th grade, November per a tie score, the 5th and 7th grades each holding it two weeks and in December by the 5th grade.

Cocoa was served at lunch during January, February and March, the children purchasing 2,008 cups. 2,122 cups of milk were served to the first four grades in the Adams school at morning recess, during April, May and June and an increase in weight was noted on the weight charts. Cocoa is now being served in the Lunch Room during noon hour. 302 cups have been served during November and December.

During the summer vacation period the Committee made some repairs in the Nurse's Room and installed running water, a much needed improvment.

Gray is the peaceful night,
 Day's closing brings it nigh;
 Crimson which streaks the sky
 In radiant light.
 These are our colors dear,
 Tho' we in numbers few
 To them we will be true
 When far or near.

Each year we work and strive
 To keep our ideal high,
 High as the distant star
 Each one alive.

 Hear this our welcome lay

School Notes.

The Committee on the High School Building have been given a thorough report by the architect, and the building is now connected with the main building. The James H. Brown Shoe Co. and a Typewriter Co. and a printing shop. F. King provided the building with a large building and another deck for general use.

This office is used for the Superintendent, the Superintendent of Music and Learning, and the all school committee meetings. All records are kept in this office.

Total Committee meetings including regular and special
Richard F. Downing attended 10
L. Clarence Thorne " 10
Rudolph F. King " 10
Superintendent Theodore King " 10
Principal Clyde F. Brown " 10

Two of the above meetings were held with the entire teaching corps. Regular monthly Committee meetings are held the last Friday of each month.

In March 1908 Principal Clyde F. Brown called a special meeting of the Teachers from the High, Adams and Brown schools for the discussion of school problems. About fifteen of these meetings have been held up to date and we feel that a great amount of good has resulted from them.

The Committee and Teachers being anxious to have the citizens of the Town attend the Schools, to become interated in what is taking place in and by the schools, held June 17th, a "Go To School Day" in the Adams and Ellice schools and in the evening of the same day, the afternoon session was held in all departments of the High school.

On the evening of November 10, 1921 in Snow's Hall there was held a public Exhibition of School Work and an entertainment by the School Children.

Both these meetings were largely attended and proved a decided success.

This year special attention has been given to the need of new and up-to-date books in all our grades. Some new books have been purchased for the year and more will be purchased the coming year.

Fire Drills are held regularly. Chief Adams visited school and watched one of these drills at both the Adams and High Schools.

7

The School Committee has covered Shannon's bus and auto. with Liability Insurance and we hold a certificate of Insurance on the Medway & Dedham Bus Line Inc.

Our Schools Buildings and contents have a total insurance of $3,750.00.

Sports for the first time were recognized by the School Committee as being essential to the success of our schools and our school this year was represented by a Base Ball and Foot Ball Team. The citizens of Millis should be proud of the record made by these boys and in recognition of their efforts they were given a Banquet and Reception at the close of the season.

Report of Land Sold James Tiernan

At the annual town meeting Feb. 9, 1925, it was voted to instruct the Selectmen to sell to James Tiernan a strip of land approximately 10 feet wide on the westerly side of the High School lot, establishing the line approximately where the Edison Electric Ill. Co. poles now stand that serve the Town Park at a fair price. Mr. Worthington of Dedham was secured to make a survey of the plot of land after which twenty-five dollars ($25.00) was agreed to be a fair price. The deed was drawn by the Town Clerk.

Report of Clicquot Ditch

At a town meeting called on Sept. 25, 1925, to see what action the town might take in regard to the laying of an addition 24-inch drain pipe to care for the surface water at Clicquot. As fifteen per cent of the voters were not present, no legal action was taken, only it was the sense of the meeting to lay the pipe and accept any donations which might be offered. After careful consideration the board thought wise to proceed with the work. The board received and accepted a donation of five hundred dollars ($500.00) from the Clicquot Club to carry on the work. The work was put out for bids and two bids were received of which Mr. William Hinman was the lowest. The total cost of the work including a catch basin and extra pipe on Union street to care for the excess water near the Smith hotel was $1997.66. The work is fully completed and is proving very satisfactory to all concerned.

Respectfully submitted,

T. J. MCCARTHY,

A. G. CHOATE,

H. F. PEARE,

Selectmen of Millis.
